

ON PROTEST

LASA 2017

Panel Series Program

April 29 - May 1st 2017
Lima, Perú

Organized by participants in the international, interdisciplinary "On Protest Research Initiative," coordinated by the Center for Latin American, Caribbean and Latino Studies at UMass-Amherst, the ten panels listed in this brochure address an inter-related set of theoretical, epistemological, methodological, and political questions. Bringing diverse saberes/knowledges into conversation and addressing urgent issues, the sessions feature scholars and intellectual-activists working in a wide range of (trans)disciplines, countries, and activist endeavors. To advance our collective conversations and further ground them in the realities of the Américas, the Lima-based Programa Democracia y Transformación Global, a key partner of the On Protest Initiative, also organized a post-LASA Foro Público entitled, "Nuestra América en el nuevo escenario global: Los movimientos sociales frente la ofensiva conservadora, la persistencia extractivista y la crisis de progresismo," to be held on May 2 and 3 at the Universidad Antonio Ruiz de Montoya and the Universidad Nacional Mayor de San Marcos (see flyer enclosed).
